FIVE STAR BANK NAMES KRISTA SNELLING CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER

SACRAMENTO, CA – Krista Snelling has joined Five Star Bank as Senior Vice President, Chief Financial Officer.

In her new role, Snelling oversees the Information Technology, Human Resources, and Accounting and Finance Departments. Krista brings a more than 12 years of financial services and public accounting experience with her. Prior to joining Five Star Bank, Snelling was the Chief Financial Officer of the Hanson McClain group of companies and was Senior Vice President, Controller of Placer Sierra Bank based in Auburn, Calif. She also spent six years serving audit clients across multiple industries while working in the Sacramento offices of Arthur Andersen and KPMG. She is a licensed Certified Public Accountant in the State of California and a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

A Sacramento native who now resides in Roseville, Snelling graduated from the University of California at Davis with a Master of Arts degree in Economics and from the University of the Pacific with a Bachelor of Science degree with a double major in Mathematics and Economics. She serves on the board of Recreate and is an active volunteer at a local elementary school.

“Krista is very bright and energetic. She is a perfect fit as Five Star Bank continues to strategically grow,” said James Beckwith, President and CEO of Five Star Bank.

Five Star Bank was started in 1999 by a group of Sacramento area business professionals to provide local banking services with an emphasis on commercial real estate and small business. Five Star Bank offers the opportunity to work with banking professionals who provide fast lending decisions and are intimately familiar with the project at hand, local economy, and their client’s needs.
